

Software and Web Application Development

WiCITS can custom-develop desktop, client/server, and web applications. All our applications are developed using agile development methodologies, which help reduce the time taken to develop and deploy applications. We also undertake projects that are more database in nature. Contact us for more details.